

The table of contents in issue 2 of this volume did not list the important article by Raymond Nickerson "On why it is easier to find two People with the same Birthday than one other Person with one's own".